Some might find that they're worth finding
But the troubles in our eyes are so blinding
And no-one knows what they feel
Or how to control what seems real
Are you real, are you

And I don't know how to let you go
How to let you go
In times like these, when there's nothing left to hold
And everything's been told
There's nowhere to go, there's nowhere to go

The troubles in our eyes (repeat)

And I don't know how to let you go
How to let you go
And everything's been told
There's nowhere to go, there's nowhere to go

We all want to hear our names (repeat)

We hear our names (repeat)

The troubles in our eyes (repeat)

The troubles in your eyes
Are the troubles inside mine
The troubles in our eyes
I will let go in time
