Maybe there's a place where sick doesn't exist.
And cancer lacks the heart beat that God forgot to give
Let me take you there.
Let's get away from here.
Don't try to slow me down
I'm running out of time and I've got everything to lose.

If you're still there, hold on a little longer.
I was too scared but I should've been stronger.
All I really know is if I could buy us time,
We could start this over
Build another life.

Dressed in the sheen
This isn't getting any easier to take in.
It's hard to believe this is how the story really ends.

Let's go now, let's get away from here.
Don't try to slow me down,
I'm almost out of time and I don't have much left to lose.

If you're still there, hold on a little longer.
I was too scared but I should've been stronger.
All I really know is if I could buy us time,
We could start this over
Build another life.

I'll scream till my heart explodes,
If that's what it takes to bring you home.
I don't know which way to go
Without you here to guide me along.

If you're still there hold on, hold on.
I was too scared, and I know
Well I know I was wrong.
But tonight, well I feel alive.
And I could buy us time
We could build another life
