When it starts to rain inside and you need a place to hide

There's nowhere left to run

You can hang on to a dream may not be just like it seems

You have no way to tell

When you'll find your peace of mind

Of this you can be sure

That I need you most of all - Yes, I need you

I used to know it all - No chance that I would fall

How wrong could I be - Can't see the wood for the trees

Then you helped to make me see

Your love became a part of me - And turned it all around

There's a place - So deep inside - I'd never been before

Here and now - This I can promise you

I'll never let you down

Cause I need you most of all

Yes, I need you the most

When it starts to rain inside you don't have to hide

Cause I need you by my side

Yes, I need you most of all
