Well we used to be
Like soldiers of destiny
And we used to drive our wings
Through a clear blue sky
And if you still believe
Believe in what tomorrow brings
You can drink from the endless well
As the years roll by

But if you have some heart me
I know you have some heart for me
And if you find it at the end of every day
Then there is still a place for me
Burning in the midnight breeze
And we will never lose our way
As the years roll by

But if you find someone
Hold her close and warm
For it's the love inside
That your great heart yearns
And if you happiness

Is more than just a smile
May the light in your brown eyes
Bring you a child

May your only true love
Never be a blue love
And may you always be so carefree and so wild
May whoever takes your hand
Keep you safe and warm
And may you never lose your way
As the years roll by

May your only true love
Never be a blue love
And may you always be so carefree and so wild
May whoever takes your hand
Keep you safe and warm
And may you never lose your way

As the years roll by
And may you never lose your way
As the years roll by
