If you get out in the driving rain, stand in the eye of a hurricane,
And never think twice.
If you turn your back on selfishness, and your thoughts are for someone Else
'Cos they changed your life.

That's how you know it's love,
That's how you know it's meant to be.
When the span of forever, just never seems long enough?
That's how you know it's love.

Then your heart, insists that you give it all
And you no longer fear the fall and you just let go.
When the past, is finally dead and gone.
Faith leads you somewhere to the one that has your soul.

That's how you know it's love
That's how you know it's meant to be
When the span of forever, just never seems long enough.
That's how you know it's love.

No part of you questions, no part of you doubts
You're only sure this is what love's about Nothing or no-one can stand in your way or keep you from saying
What your heart is dying to say.

That's how you know it's love,
That's how you know it's meant to be.
When the span of forever, just never seems long
enough.
That's how you know it's love.

That's how you know, that's how you know it's love,
You know it's love.
That's how you know it's meant to be, that's how you know.

That's how you know it's love, that's how you know.
