

Francesca Battistelli

"Acquainted"

Visit "Acquainted" on MotoLyrics.com

I've never been to Hong Kong in mid-July,
I've never played croquet and I don't know why.
There are many things that I have yet to try.
Sometimes I feel like an open book,
Still there's places no one's ever dared to look.
If you find those pages will you read them all aloud?

I don't have the answers,
I don't have a clue.
I'm better off if I just wait on you.
I try to keep my balance,
Put my fears up on the shelf,
But I'm still not very well acquainted with myself.

Sometimes I'm scared to travel far from home
When I venture out into the great unknown,
But the truth is I know I am never all alone.
You're always by my side improving me,
Not a day goes by when you're not moving me.
You're the center of my every thought and my whole world.

I don't have the answers,
I don't have a clue.
I'm better off if I just wait on you.
I try to keep my balance,
Put my fears up on the shelf,
But I'm still not very well acquainted with myself.

My insufficiencies are your sufficiencies,
And my mistakes are covered with your grace.

Visit Francesca Battistelli page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.