(Françoise Hardy) adaptation anglaise Julian More

Each day they see me with him everywhere
My friends all agree, I'm walking on air

But you just have to say the word and I'll see him no more
If you love me still, you just have to say the word
That's all I'm waiting for if you love me still, if you love me still

I try to pretend that everything's fine
But he's just a friend and you're really mine

If you should ever say the word, I won't see him again
If you love me still, you just have to say the word
I'll end it there and then, if you love me still, if you love me still

For when he's near to me and I'm closing my eyes You're the one that I see and I'm tired of the lies

You just have to say the word, one word to set me free
If you love me still, if you love me still.
