Emptiness

You're like an empty ship
Sailing away without no destination
You drifting around in the streets
You feel so empty inside

But I know a man that can fill you up
He can give you love in your heart
Yes I know a man that can fill you up
He can give you love in your heart

Lonely days feels like never ending
A hopeless emptiness that fills your mind
Lonesome days are grey,
Nothing that shines and make you happy

But I know a man that can fill you up
He can give you love in your heart
Yes I know a man that can fill you up
He can give you love in your heart

In your heart you keep your dreams
Of a time that has been, a time of love and joy
If you try to forget the past and set your trust in him
Your emptiness will disappear

But I know a man that can fill you up
He can give you love in your heart
Yes I know a man that can fill you up
He can give you love in your heart

In this lonely days,
You've been sitting there
Just waiting for someone
To come in to your life
And give you love
