I got a broken face
I got a broken face
I got a broken face
I got a broken face

There was this boy who had
Two children with his sisters
They were his daughters
They were his favorite lovers

I got no lips, I got no tongue
Where there were eyes, there's only space
I got no lips, I got no tongue

I got a broken face
I got a broken face

There was this man
Who smashed his brain in little pieces
And then he drilled holes
And then he put 'em back in there

I got no lips, I got no tongue
Where there were eyes, there's only space
I got no lips, I got no tongue

I got a broken face
I got a broken face

The little thing who does my laundry
Speaks no English, if you saw her
You'd say, "Isn't she lovely?"

I got no lips, I got no tongue
Where there were eyes, there's only space
I got no lips, I got no tongue
