They say the end's near
But I'll approach it with no fear
When the smoke clears I'll find my spirit is still here
May take years to find it the prophets are real Too much damage to inhabit the planet, that's severe
I talk shit you heartless paupers can't feel
With concepts the smartest robber can't steal
Your fears will cause all ya'll to pur tears
Cause the bomb that I'm droppin is landing, so stand clear
Are there any "%$"! here in the theater tonight?
We'll get em up against the wall and stick em with dynamite
Cause there's something going on in my head that ain't right
But I'm getting ready to take flight, so hang tight

It don't matter if you're standin tall
If your thinin small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust

It don't matter if you're standin tall
If your thinin small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust

Fuck parying like it's 1999
Ain't wathing the ball fall, ain't calculating time
Watching polar caps melt, and the coastline rise
See the ocean divide, and nine planets align Sun shining too bright, ignitin the Alpines
With petrified eyeswere watching at ringside

Can't run, you can't hide, panicking worldwide
When straight out the sky, falls great balls of fire
I'll sneak on the spot where the shuttle is launched
Strap me and a broad onto a rocket and blast off
We'll be following the way of the Force like Star Wars
And I'll start a new fam' when I land on Mars

It don't matter if you're standin tall

If your thinin small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust

It don't matter if you're standin tall
If your thinin small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust

Now when the end comes, and your time here is done
Will you look back and say, over all,it was all fun?
Well life's been good to me so far like Joe Walsh
But it won't break my heart if it all falls apart

It don't matter if you're standin tall
If your thinin small, we all rise and fall
Don't gonna try to abide by the law
No one alive is surviving the holocaust
