Don't worry, hey, no need for you to hide among the trees

Come into the light and you'll be free

Don't scurry, it's such a lonely life up in the hills

The valley's gonna cure your every ill

Don't worry, hey, I know that you are lost

But you'll be found

God willing we are California bound

God willing we are California bound

No, I never will hate you

I just want to show you the one truth

And spread my love all around

Don't worry, don't bring yourself down

Don't let your mind chase you like a hound

Don't worry, don't bring yourself down

We're coming today to save your town

No worries, I know tomorrow brings the golden sun

Where there's wine and olive fruit for everyone

Do hurry, hey, now spread the news

From there upon your mound

God willing we are California bound

God willing I won't put you in the ground

No, I never will hate you

I just want to show you the one truth

And spread God's love all around

Don't worry, don't bring yourself down

Don't let your mind chase you like a hound

Don't worry, don't bring yourself down

We're coming today to save your town

Don't worry, don't bring yourself down

We're coming to save your mind and town

Don't worry, don't bring yourself down

We're coming to chase you like a hound
