Sally and Sam, Sailed of to sea
They raised their flags up high and sung their song of beauty
Up off the shore, blue nights of green
Golden treasure and foggy memories of love

Drink dance sing now,
Life has just begun you know well all be merry
And pray we'll make it home when
We set sail for sunny skies our love will last forever
darling
And that is how their stories told

Prince Paul Pintle was a pirate to be
He drew his sword upon this old and shabby vessel Tied up their hands, tied up their feet

Walk your plank now this boat belongs to me tonight

Drink dance sing now
Life has just begun you know we'll all be merry
And pray we'll make it home when
We set sail for sunny skies our love will last forever
darling
And that is how this stories told

Life is funny but you try to get by Times are changing now for you and I
Death due us part
Right from the start
A candles burning but the fire's out
Come on baby time to twist and shout
We'll meet again
Closer to the end
