Lately I've been waking up at three,
Just in time to make a coffee and watch countdown on TV,
And Every day it feels the same,
Like you're the one to blame,
Because yet again,
You Didn't Call me,

Hey...

If only I was waking up at nine,
Moving on with things and laughing,
Pretending that I'm fine,
But in truth I've barely made it out of bed,
Because you never text me back,
And it messes with my head,

And I won't stand for that,
(Backing) But you make it hard for me,
And I won't stand for that,
(Backing) When it really shouldn't be,
I won't stand for that,
It's not rocket science,
It's you and me,

And lately I've been getting up at four,
And telling you I've been awake for seven hours,
Maybe more,
But soon enough I know you'll see what's going on,
'Cause you're not stupid,
You're definitely not stupid,

And I won't stand for that,
(Backing) But you make it hard for me,
And I won't stand for that,
(Backing) When it really shouldn't be,
I won't stand for that,
It's not rocket science,
It's you and me,

(Backing) And I'm no good,

At these things,
And I'm no good,
At these things,

(Both) And I'm no good,
At these things,
And I'm no good,
At these things,

And I won't stand for that,
'Cause you make it hard for me,
It's not tough to work out,
At least it really shouldn't be,
I won't stand for that,
'Cause it's not rocket science,
It's you and me.
