This trash should've been free, take the bus to the city run while you fucking Can This trash should've been free, break the monotony of falling into rank In parking lots This trash should've been free, you don't have to serve god & Country or eat the things they've forced on me This trash will never be free You flickered out and died far away in a place where they'll take your life on Credit trash free this trash is just a memory that's nursed like stolen Whiskey and though you're still alive I know you'll choke and suffocate.
