

Frank Sinatra "Hey Look, No Crying"

Visit "Hey Look, No Crying" on MotoLyrics.com

Hey, look, no crying, though she has one foot out the door

I should be crying, it ought to hurt a little more

I should resent her, try to prevent her, whatever for?

Hey, look, I knew it, she's not the type to hang around

Some day she was bound to go

With that fact in mind, my tears were never apropos

Hey. look, no sorrow, I have been luckier than most

And if tomorrow I still feel haunted by her ghost

I will remember how I loved her and how it was

Who needs crying? With those memories in tow

Me, I'm flying, I got memories to show

Hey, look, no crying

Just "Goodbye", I'm letting go

Visit Frank Sinatra page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.