

Frank Sinatra

"The Call Of The Canyon"

Visit "The Call Of The Canyon" on MotoLyrics.com

Just a melancholy echo ling'ring when the day is through,
It's the call of the canyon, once again I'm dreaming of you.

Every night I search the moonlight up and down the river shore,
It's the call of the canyon, maybe I will find you once more.

Standing there alone by the ashes of the fire we said
would never die,
Will I ever find an ember burning from the days gone
by.

Then I hear a lonely whisper as a little spark I see,
It's the call of the canyon, bringing back your answer to me.

(Instrumental)

Standing there alone by the ashes of the fire we said
would never die,
Will I ever find an ember burning from the days gone
by.

Then I hear a lonely whisper as a little spark I see,
It's the call of the canyon, bringing back your answer to
me.

Visit Frank Sinatra page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.