It was a small world where I found you
From a hundred million people I chose you
In a flight of fancy, crudely emotive
I once loved a woman with no hidden motive
It's a small world and I found you

Chorus

Lovers intertwine
Through the barbed wire grows the vine
Erotic and irrational
It's a dangerous world
Catch me as I fall
Well we're flesh and blood, you're a part of me
Our child is living proof of the right chemistry

I fear my feelings gotta keep up my chin
Just have to keep on fighting the enemy within
'Cause my pain is your pain, you're a part of me

Chorus

Don't you clip the wings of love
Don't you clip the wings of love
When it's locked away love still glistens
Hearts will scream when no one listens
Don't you clip the wings of love

Chorus

(F.Tovey)
