Help, I'm a rock!

Help, I'm a rock!

Help, I'm a rock!

Somebody!

Help, I'm a rock!

Please!

Help, I'm a rock!

Please!

Help, I'm a rock!

Please!

Help, I'm a rock!

Wow!

Help, I'm a rock!

Wow!

Help, I'm a rock!

Help, I'm a rock!

Somebody helps me

Wow, man, it's a drag being a rock

(Help, I'm a rock)

(Help, I'm a rock)

(Help, I'm a rock)

I wish I was anything but a rock

Heck, I'd even like to be a policeman
Hey, you know what?
You know maybe if I practice, you know
Maybe if I pass my driving test
I could get a gig drivin' that bus that pick the freaks up
In front of Ben Frank's, right?

Help, I'm a cop!
Help, I'm a cop!
Help, I'm a cop!
Help, I'm a cop!
(Help, I'm a rock)
Help, I'm a cop!
(Help, I'm a rock)

It's a drag being a cop
I think I'd rather be the mayor

Always wondered what I was gonna be when I grew up,
you know
Always wondered whether or not . . . whether or not I could make it
You know, in society, because,
You know, it's a drag when you're rejected
So I tore the cover off a book of matches
And I sent in
And I got this letter back that said . . .
