The first thing that attracted me
To the mothers music
Was the fact that they played
For twenty minutes

Everybody was hissing, and booing
And falling of the dance floor And elmer was yelling at them to get Off the stage and turn down they're amplifiers

Ah, I know perfect thing to accompany this man's trumpet
None other than the mighty majestic Albert Hall pipe organ
You understand that you won't be able to hear the organ once
We turn the amplifiers up, all right, done, whip it on them

Louie Louie
They like it loud, do you know?
Let's hear again to the London Philharmonic Orchestra
