I don't believe in trouble
I don't believe in pain
I don't believe there's nothing left
But running here again
I don't believe in promise
I don't believe in chance
I don't believe you can't resist
The things that make no sense
I don't believe in silence
'Cause silence seems so slow
I don't believe in energy
The tension is too low
I don't believe in panic
I don't believe in fear
I don't believe in promises
That make us sense tears
I don't believe reality
Could be the way it should
I don't believe in fantasy
The future's understood
I don't believe in history
I don't believe in truth
I don't believe there's destiny
That somebody can choose
