Verse 1.

Once again you're home alone,
Tears running from your eyes,
And I'm on the outside,
Knowing that you're all I want,
But I can't do anything, I'm so helpless baby.

Bridge.

Everyday, same old things,
So you're still feeling pain,
Never had real love before,
And it aint her fault...

Chorus

She knows better but She can't help it,
Wanna tell her But would that be selfish?
How do you heal A heart that can't feel, it's broken,
His love is all she knows, all she knows, all she knows,
His love is all she knows, all she knows, all she knows

Verse 2.

You've been livin this way so long,
You don't know the difference And it's killing me, Cause you can have so much more I'm the one your looking for,
But you close your eyes on me So you still can't see

Bridge

Everyday, same old things,
So you're still feeling pain,
Never had real love before,
And it aint her fault...

Chorus.

She knows better but She can't help it,
Wanna tell her But would that be selfish?
How do you heal A heart that can't feel, it's broken,
His love is all she knows, all she knows, all she knows,
His love is all she knows, all she knows, all she knows

Verse 3.

All she knows is the pain In the corner of an empty home, She's still comfortable,

I want her to know It can be better than this I can't pretend,
Wish we were more than friends

Bridge
Chorus

(music fades into end of song)
