Do you think you could learn?
Do you think you could love?
Do you think you could learn to love me?

Do you think I can change?
Do you think you would mind?
Can I change your mind about me?

We could spend the rest of our lives
Wondering what might have been
We could set aside our foolish pride
And fall in love again

I hope we could try
I hope you could trust
I hope you could try and trust me

Do you think you could ever?
Could you forgive?
Do you think you could ever forgive me?

We could spend the rest of our lives
Wondering what might have been
We could set aside our foolish pride
And fall in love again

We could take a leap of faith
Close our eyes and jump in
Find comfort in a familiar face
And fall in love again

We could spend the rest of our lives
Wondering what might have been
We could set aside our foolish pride
And fall in love again

And fall in love again
