You toss in a word
And I'm your villain
I see the passion emerge
And I'm your villain

But serious
You're so serious
Oh, like a waiter
Hating the rich
But taking their tips

Oh, if I could laugh, I'd love you
Oh, if I could smile at anything you said
We could be laughing lovers
I think you'd prefer to be miserable instead

If I could laugh, I'd love you
Oh, if I could laugh like anybody else
Like anybody else, like anybody else

I know what I am
And I'm your villain
Oh no, I don't give a damn
If I'm your villain

'Cause serious
You're so serious
But I've got ready salted
Ready on your belly
If you want to have fun

See you later, baby, see you later
See you later, baby, see you later
See you later, baby, see you later
See you later, baby, see you later

See you later, baby, see you later
See you later, baby, see you later
