It hurts to say your name
How could you do this then walk away
And then you see that all your lies
They are alive inside of you
Because you still believe

[CHORUS]

Cost you everything
Because you still believe
That you can rule the world
Lost inside your mind
Is the only thing
That shall set you free

You pushed me to the edge
I see you changing so many ways

And where I am it's hard to breathe
You know that I can always see
Through you

[CHORUS]

Isn't it strange how the little things
Remind you of the way it used to be
Everything changes...
Eventually

[CHORUS X3]

And it cost you everything
And it cost you everything
Because you still believe
And it has to say your name
