I've been looking deep inside my mind / April was last time we've met
You left me saying that you love me / but now you ask me to forget
I know something changed in your soul and hearth /
But I don't why
If it's something that I did or said / would easily make you cry

When I look in to your eyes
Just can see sadness and hate
You'd believe in all those lies
And things I never made

Heat of our love is damped
Trust also is gone away
Still don't get what happened
And don't know what say

I don't believe it can't be real
That your feelings for me is over
Love is gone and that's your fault
Now we can't see each other

When I look in to your eyes
I just can see sadness and hate
You'd believe in all those lies
And things I never made

Heat of our love is damped
Trust also is gone away
Still don't get what happened
And don't know what say

I don't believe it can't be real
That your feelings for me is over
Love is gone and that's your fault
Now we can't see each other
