Mary used to judge me just because I don't believe in her God

Well maybe I was wrong but she is nice I guess is not her fault

Charles never looks worried but I could see what its wrong inside

Should I told him about all that to take off all weight upon his life

Can we help each other at home?

Or just live our empty lives alone

Lucky got in trouble again and always hide it from all family

They found out years ago however they will just let it be Richard was to proud to talk about feelings of hate or love

Once night drunk to me he opened the gates and let it goes

Can we help each other at home?

Or just live our empty lives alone
