You're the ruler of your destiny
Can I talk to you about a thing or two?
It's not right that you're feeling blue
Never ever let them get to you

You know I've been right there where you are now
It's all right, I'll show you how
You can be, you can be what you wanna be
You're the ruler of your destiny

Whatever comes your way, no matter what they say
Always let your soul shine, let your soul shine
No matter what they do, you know it's up to you
Always let your soul shine, let your soul shine

It won't take too long before you know
There's no other way to go
Then straight to the top of the world
Straight to the top of the world

It's there, in your heart
Don't let anyone tear it apart
You can be, you can be what you wanna be
You're the ruler of your destiny

Whatever comes your way, no matter what they say
Always let your soul shine, let your soul shine
No matter what they do, you know it's up to you
Always let your soul shine, let your soul shine

Don't let go, there's someone here
To see you through
There's someone here for you
Someone here for you

You're the ruler of your destiny
You can be what you want to be
It's your life and you got the key
Wake up, wake up, wake up now

Gotta learn that you're in control
Of your body, of your soul

What matters at the end of the day
Is if you make it shine

Whatever comes your way, no matter what they say
Always let your soul shine, let your soul shine
No matter what they do, you know it's up to you
Always let your soul shine, let your soul shine

Whatever comes your way, no matter what they say
Always let your soul shine, let your soul shine
No matter what they do, you know it's up to you
Always let your soul shine, let your soul shine

Why don't you let your soul shine?
