I separate my dreams
From adolescent schemes
Trying to find a way to work it out
I'm lying in a gaze
I'm sloping through a maze
No one hears my voice
I scream and shout
The possibilities
The birds and all the bees
The volleyball team
The girl scouts
And all around the world
To every boy and girl
Is a danger, danger of our head
I hope the world isn't sinking
I need a little more time
I have all the strange feelings
That's the story of my life
High school is a curse
The school bus is a horse
The weekend is a prize
That I wait for
I guess I'll see the nurse
Before it all gets worse
I'm planning my escape before the bell
It really hurts my brain those calls are such a strain the difference between my of then and hell
It's the danger, danger of of head
I hope the world isn't sinking
I need a little more time
I have all the strange feelings
That's the story of my life
I'm bottled up inside and now I'm breaking
I'm bottled up inside and now I'm breaking
I'm bottled up inside and now I'm breaking
I'm bottled up inside and now I'm breaking
I'm bottled up inside and now I'm breaking
I'm breaking
I hope the world
Isn't sinking
I need a little more time

I have all the strange feelings
that's the story of my life
I hope the world isn't sinking
I need a little more time
I have all the strange feelings
