Heart we just got to get together
For my own peace of mind I've got to know
You'll be only one who really knows the answers
You know you love her but should we keep her or let her go

Eyes are you sure you saw her cheating
Ears love words you've heard could be a lie
We've got everything to gain if we can keep her
But so much too much to lose to say goodbye

Can you even imagine life without her

At her worst she's still the best we've ever known Heart don't lose your head and go to pieces
Here she comes now heart ain't it good to have her home
Here she comes now heart ain't it good to have her
home
