I want to gaze into your eyes and see the fire in their glow
(But it's the same old story)
Want you to melt inside my arms like falling rain upon the snow
(But you say, no, you say, no)

Want you to help me through deep waters when my ship is in a storm Want you to give me all the power like a king on his throne
(But you don't care, you don't care)
History repeats itself, I seem to be all by myself again

Come into my life, it's a man made paradise
Come into my life, it's a man made paradise
Come into my life, it's a man made paradise
Come into my life, it's a man made paradise, paradise

One day I'll look into your mind and understand which way to go
(But it's the same old story)
When you refuse me all the time I'm suicidal on my own (But you don't know, you don't know)

I want to be beside you now, lie in the sand and kiss
your brow
I want to fly beyond the moon and do the things we do for love
(But you don't care, you don't care)
History repeats itself, I seem to be all by myself again

Come into my life, it's a man made paradise
Come into my life, it's a man made paradise
Come into my life, it's a man made paradise
Come into my life, it's a man made paradise, paradise

I want to be beside you now, lie in the sand and kiss
your brow
I want to fly beyond the moon and do the things we do
for love
(But you say no, you say no)

History repeats itself, I seem to be all by myself again
