"If You Say Always"

I was lost and alone, trying hard to get through the day
But it's hard to go on, when your hope is gone
I didn't have the answers, I didn't know the questions to ask I thought that I was dreaming cause suddenly you're standing by my side

If you say always, forever, I want it with you
If you say someday or never I'll always wait for you

I was lost and alone, working every moment I had Independent and free, that was life for me
But suddenly I needed you and suddenly I want you so bad I'll wait before the sunrise, to be there when you open up your eyes

If you say always, forever, I want it with you
If you say someday or never I'll always wait for you

I know there's something different, I know this time's for real We'll fight whatever comes together baby
And I know you'll always be there no matter what will come Cause every day and night we share are special moments

If you say always, forever, I want it with you
If you say someday or never I'll always wait for you
If you say always, I'll always wait for you
