he's got his bags packed. and he ain't coming back. there's still some places he can go. when he feels under attack. first she tried to kill him. she really shot him down. she's not one for mixing words. she likes the way that they sound. and she'll kiss you and you've got some enemies. and then she'll love you and you've got some enemies. he's got his bags packed. and he ain't coming back. there's still some places he can go. when he feels under attack. and she'll kiss you and you've got some enemies. and then she'll love you and you've got some enemies. the sun will come out tomorrow. bet your bottom dollar. that tomorrow rain or shine forget about it
