oh! good god! you must feel so ridiculous. she rolled up to your party, shotgun in his lexus. she forgot your birthday card. and she's been fucking all your homeboys, flexing their credit cards. she's not that kind of girl yeah right! she's like every other girl, every girl in the world. oh! good god! you must feel so insignificant. she's way out of your price range, make no mistake about it. so the sex you had was charity. (cue violins), oh what a tragedy! she's not that kind of girl yeah right! she's like every other girl, every girl in the world. you know it's useless. you know it's wrong. but in a couple of weekends time. you'll be somebody else's sad song
