Don't tell us what we're fighting for
Our words will always speak our truth
We state our problems and you'll understand
Why our lives matter, they're not in your hands
The negative cause you bring to this world
Won't bring us truth

Our voice breaks louder
It kills to slaughter our words
Our minds, our truth
I can hear words

They all never cease to die

Don't ever tell us what our own opinions are
We don't need a map to the trails that we made

Tonight is lost
Tomorrow, rise
Your restraints won't lead us to our demise
And with our hands tied at the wrists
We will not stop, fall down or hold back our fists
