Once you came along down to earth
To let your wisdom shine
A flame, a light for all the world
Your mission was divine, so divine

Now you should come and try again
We're running out of time
A world, a land of misery
Where blind men lead the blind

Starchild, starbright
You give us a reason to help us believe
Starchild, starbright
You are the reason, the reason to live

It's still the same in every game
The world will never learn
And no one cares, no one sees
No one understands

Starchild, starbright
You give us a reason to help us believe
Starchild, starbright
You are the reason, the reason to live

Starchild, starchild
Enlighten the darkness
Starchild, starchild
Sent down from Heaven

Starchild, starchild
It seems that the world
Never learned

Bring your heart and soul, come back to earth
The world has gone insane
2 and 5 thousand years ago
Seemed to be in vain

Starchild, starbright
You give us a reason to help us believe
Starchild, starbright

You are the reason, the reason to live
