"The Eyes Of The World"

At the end of all creation
The world is standing still
Eternal damnation
For all who have sinned

Hear the clash up in the atmosphere
There's silence everywhere
We're daring not to move or breathe
[Incomprehensible] in the air

We obey the light
And it's blazing rays of might
I believe

Take the eyes of the world and fly
To the land where all the angels cry
Here we are heading for the sun

The eyes of the world will cry
For the land where all the eagles fly
We are, we are heading on and on

We're praying for redemption
One day we will recall
Who was responsible
For mankind's rise and fall?

When the masters of the universe
They draw the final line
They're calling in their sacrifice
It's time to realize

We obey the light
And it's blazing rays of might
I believe

Take the eyes of the world and fly
To the land where all the angels cry
Here we are heading for the sun

The eyes of the world will cry
For the land where all the eagles fly

We are, we are heading on and on

Take the eyes of the world and fly
To the land where all the angels cry
Here we are heading for the sun

The eyes of the world will cry
For the land where all the eagles fly
We are, we are heading on and on
