Start talking fast, get your point across.
You won't know your last 'till you're at a loss.
We both know you're too good to be givin' up.
We won't stop fighting until we've had enough.

and I see you down, now, for the count.
Nevertheless, and without a doubt,
One day you'll pull through.

Your heart beats fast and you're all upset.
Just take a rest, then we'll make amends.
Don't shelter me from all your thoughts.
Not all is gone, forgiveness bought.

One day you'll pull through
