You can really fall
Wake up in a ruined house
Wrapped up
In a torn down curtain

And when I get to hell
Will the lovely girls come down
To the banks
Of that red, red river?

I can hear the laughs
When they find I've fallen down again
I can hear the laughs
And it hurts so bad I have to smile

You can take a lot
Put back not a thing
Still come home
Looking thinner

And when I get to Oz
Will the lovely witch come down
Kiss my pale
Bleeding brow?

I can hear the laughs
When they find I've fallen down again
I can hear the laughs
And it hurts so bad I have to smile
