"I don't want this anymore"
Is all I heard her say
As I grabbed my stuff and headed out the door.

With my music in my phones
Things started to look different
And my bike under my feet

As I got out on the street.
Sometimes I see her face
In the new people that I meet
We're not who we thought we were

When we saw this dream
Sometimes when I just can't sleep
How did you get so deep inside of me
I hear the words you said to me:

I wake up and I move on
I admit the past is gone
I wake up and I refine
Moving forward to the next lifetime,
I leave it all behind.
Sometimes when I just can't sleep
I hear the words you said to me:

To realize you are free
Sometimes it takes a painful loss

How did you get so deep inside of me
How did you get so deep inside of me?
