I spent some time saying some things i didn't want to say Convincing someone of something about me not a lie but not
The truth in a way. Slipping into a suit and tie or walking In some shoes i got lost in that disguise i guess i had Something to prove but the proof is there in what i do talk
Is cheap and clothes make the man if it's not a disguise and You know where you stand. I'm a clown I'm a monkey maybe i'm a jerk Whatever you make me out to be but i know the difference
And what you say dosen't matter to me. I don't care what you Think i'm gonna do what i have to do. Say what you wanna say Talk's a waste of time with you.
