Well I've been making
Some cold calculations
Regarding our body heat
It's not easy -- Believe me

You liken me to a vampire
My left hand was wearing fake plastic teeth
All winter
And taking you for all you were worth

Well I'm afraid I'm not qualified to do any of these things for you Well I'm afraid I'm not gonna give you back any of those kilojoules
The late nights and weekends
Our hearts only run slowly
On the local track
So I've arranged for your phobias to be performed by a string quartet

You shoot me one of those glances
I need to interpret
I've been feeling
Well rested, and healthy

Well I'm afraid I'm not qualified
to do any of these things for you And I'm afraid I'm not gonna
give you back any of those kilojoules
The late nights and weekends
Our hearts only go so slowly
On a local track
So I've arranged for your
phobias to be performed by a string quartet
