the basement scene is dark and dusty the musty smell of stale air cobwebs dangle overhead people stumble down the stairs let's get this party started, yo the band are in the corner of the floor their songs are pretty kick-ass we're dancing like we've never danced before

the music is loud
the kids are so young
all over the world
they wanna have fun
the music is so loud
it drowns out the talk
just give us more rokk
the night is so young
all over the world
we wanna have fun
the music gets louder
please don't call the cops
we just wanna rokk

the kitchen scene is damp and sticky they're lined up at the keg of PBR we're yelling conversations thru the floor you hear the keyboards and guitar I'm getting kind of antsy I just came up here to get some air This isn't where the music's at I guess I'm going back down there

they wanna have fun

the basement scene is hot and sweaty bodies packed from wall to wall the band are tearing thru their set the encore is the best of all let's keep this party going, yo we've got nowhere else to be someone yells, "less talk more rokk" mostly unironically
