you say I'm beautiful but the sun sets on the day we've lost that great light one day we'll plan a heist take a trip and bottle the sun then you can reveal yourself to everyone stranger at a party stranger at a party, sun and neon, friend of a friend

strange the way these things work out in the end strange the way I see these things that nobody else ever sees
strange the way your light (...) goes to me
strange the way I see these things that nobody else
ever sees
strange the way your light (...) goes to me

you dream these gorgeous dreams but you say when you're awake we're lost forever you see some cold in me when we're out making a scene costume contest beauty machine

stranger at a party stranger at a party, sun and neon,
friend of a friend
strange the way these things work out in the end
ever sees
strange the way your light (...) goes to me
strange the way I see these things that nobody else
ever sees

ever sees
