Storm is coming we feel fine
Comet's burning in the sky
Old world's burning in our minds
Watch it fall away and die
We begin to lose our minds as we open up our eyes
Chasing stars all through the sky
Comet's on it's way tonight setting all the world alight

I can't wait to see what it's like
I can't wait to see what it's like

Stars look different tonight as the smoke begins to rise
It paints a coat of blue and white
Then dissipates in heaven's high
We're no longer asking why as we start to realize
Change, it's just a part of life

I can't wait to see what it's like
To be weightless
Transformation
To be weightless

All the seasons that we burned
All the things we never learned
Silence comes and goes again
Love eternal never ends
Storm is blowing, we feel fine
Comet's lighting up the night

Old world's burning in our minds
Watch it fall away and die
Chasing stars all through the sky
Comet's on it's way tonight setting all the world alight

I can't wait to see what it's like
To be weightless
Transformation
To be weightless
