I used to have home with a room and be a porch and a driveway with a big garage but i traded it in I kept some faith and laid my head down every night and it seems so far away remember me now cause things always change 5 long years has gone i've done some time sleeping where i fall i know i'll never be the same I learned somethings about the places i saw i learned something about myself i guess it came the hard way now i know what counts i've got one prayer it's in your confidence i know all the places i don't want to be everyone's gone there's no one just me remember me now cause things always change 5 long years has gone i've done some time sleeping where i fall i know i'll never be the same remember me next time i go away for the first time i wanna stay i can count one hand here today the only thing that matters to me anyway and it seems so far away remember me now cause things always change 5 long years has gone i've done some time sleeping where i fall i know i'll never be the same
