Please stop me when the sea I'm up again
its not enough
to say it once

i was carried away
i was carried away
i was carried away
and i've been carried away before

and you noticed
something darken in my eyes the fox has broken
and the hounds are coming close behind

i was carried away
i was carried away
i was carried away
and I've been carried away before

even after they're gone, something pushes me on...

a new morning
and I darken for the door
a bad notion
has come over me and left once more

i was carried away
i was carried away
i was carried away
but I can't really say what for

i was carried away
i was carried away
i was carried away
and I've been carried away before

even after they're gone, something pushes me on...

i was carried away

i was carried away
i was carried away
