

Bound For Glory

"Winds Of Change"

The winds of change are starting to blow, someone decided They'd better go! True colors are starting to show, can We survive yet another blow? I don't know!

How long will these changes last? Will our race become Part of the past? Will we be buried underneath the grass
Or will the warrior carry on the task?

You better take your stand and show the love for your Land! You better make a choice and make heard your voice!
The winds of change are blowing your way and nothin' will Ever be the same again!
