Executive on the 27th Floor
"Hold my calls I'll be gone for a minute" is what that guy said closing the door
"Won't be long it'll just take a minute"
Don't wanna see into the world of this lonely guy
He called the pet shop and use the credit card time and time again
Don't touch the rabbit another terrible habit
Pulls out the pipe and takes a long draw
Don't like pigs don't like cats don't like puppies
Designer scalpel waiting for more
Pull the curtains he's about to get lucky
To balance work and leisure's harder than it seems Just met the guinea pig of his dreams (just)

Discard the corpses into the lane
Too many gone to remember their names
Didn't hide the sickness well, little bunnies
Not coming back, easy for the police to track
And now we're not gonna sleep tonight don't feel alright this awful sight
Should have had a warning sign that said:
Don't touch the rabbit
