With those eyes, she's so hard to get over
When she laughs I just simply adore her
And although I'd do anything for her
I wish that I had told her that I care

Oh, but it's not easy
Cause when she looks at me
I can't think clearly
And when she smiles
It always puts me at ease
If I died right then
It wouldn't bother me
It never bothered

But I can't LET GO!

With those eyes, she's so hard to get over
When she laughs I just simply adore her
And although I'd do anything for her
I wish I would have followed through and told her
That she's everything

That I care, but it's not easy
Cause when she looks at me
I can't think clearly
And when she smiles
It always puts me at ease
If I died right then
It wouldn't bother me

But I dare for her to fall asleep
When she feels lonely, would she think of me?
And would her dreams, would they consist of me?
Cause I dream of her constantly
Of her constantly

But I can't LET GO!

With those eyes, she's so hard to get over
When she laughs I just simply adore her
And although I'd do anything for her
I wish I would have followed through and told her

That she's everything

With those eyes, she's so hard to get over
When she laughs I just simply adore her
And although I'd do anything for her
I wish I would have followed through and told her
That she's everything

So can I kiss your cheek?
I promise you not to speak
If you promise to be honest with everything

(Whoa)
So can I kiss your cheek? (Whoa)
I promise you not to speak (Whoa)
If you promise to be honest with everything (Whoa)

With those eyes, she's so hard to get over
When she laughs I just simply adore her
And although I'd do anything for her
I wish I would have followed through and told her
That she's everything (She's everything)
She's everything

I wish I would have followed through and told her
(I wish I would have told her)
I wish I would have followed through and told her
That's she's everything

With those eyes, she's so hard to get over
