[Music: Johansson/Freternia]

[Lyrics: Humppi/Wappling]

As darkness falls upon these lands, my heart & soul is embraced

So cold as my glow slowly fades I can hear them singing my name once again

They are singing for me...

I spread my wings and fly into the unknown now I can see the light

And through the misty night where shadowcreatures dance I'm soaring high

High above...

Reaching out for my friends one last time

Time to say goodbye heading for my afterlife

Leaving all the darkness behind

Time to say goodbye heading for my paradise

In this moment of death I am wondering why

Betrayed by the only one I thought was my friend

If I were the chosen then how come I failed

The stories they told was it just lies

It all seems so clear as two turns to one

My darkest fear has taken shape and turned into a heartless creature filled

With hate

He entered the gate so long ago when evil got created, once again they will

Unite and turn to one

Reaching out for my friends one last time

Time to say goodbye heading for my afterlife

Leaving all the darkness behind

Time to say goodbye heading for my paradise

I spread my wings and fly into the unknown now I can see the light

And through the misty night where shadowcreatures
dance I'm soaring high

He spreads his wings and flies into the unknown
towards the light
And through the clearest sky where eagles learn to fly he's soaring high

He spreads his wings and flies into the unknown
towards the light
And through the clearest sky where eagles learn to fly
he's soaring high
